Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 23.

The most notable political gathering in West Virginia for many years is over and the Republican party has placed in the field a ticket of excellent quality. It is a ticket of young men. The candidates for governor is under fifty years of age. The candidate for supreme court of appeals is older. All the others are younger men than are usually placed on a state ticket, but every man of them is a somebody and is qualified for the place he is to fill.

The men who compose the convention go to their homes with no other thought than that their ticket is to be endorsed by the people. It was an enthusiastic and somewhat unruly gathering, but it was good natured in the highest degree. The contests were sharp and determined, but when defeat came it was accepted in good faith. There is not a single sore spot left. Fortney, of Preston, was not a candidate for the supreme court of appeals, but some of his home friends thought his nomination would quiet the trouble in his judicial district. His name was presented with this thought and withdrawn in compliance with his desire.

The nomination of McWhorter, of Kanawha, settles the trouble in that judicial district and closes up the ranks for a running fight.

Chairman Holt, of Taylor county, handled the big crowd as well as anybody could have done, and as for Secretary Tully, of Wood, he was the increasing delight of the boys.

Everybody speaks well of Parkersburg. The crowd was great, but private homes were opened to relieve the hotels and there was no trouble to be comfortably lodged. Everything has gone well and everybody is happy and confident of success.

Many sound money Democrats looked on as interested observers and some did not hesitate to declare their intention to support the ticket.

The feature of the night session, and the most spirited and stubborn contest of the convention, was the struggle for the honor of the elector at large. Dr. Fitch, of Monongalia, was chosen after a lively set to, but that was hardly a beginning when it came to the second honor. There was a hand to hand contest between Fitch, of Cabell, and Rathbone, of Wirt. As soon as the changing of votes began the convention was in an uproar. When a county changed to Fitch, another changed to Rathbone. It was like a game of battle-royale and shuttlecock. The excitement ran so high that the band had to take a hand to quiet things. District lines were wiped out and the fight was on lines purely personal. After all the racket Rathbone was chosen amid comparative quiet and then his supporters broke loose in howls and shouts of victory.

KENDALL NOMINATED

For State Treasurer—Took All Morning for One Ballot.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 23.

The delegates to the Republican state convention were slow in assembling at this morning's session. Last night was one of excessive noise and enthusiastic demonstration throughout the city, in which the delegates took a conspicuous part. It was 10 o'clock, one hour later than the time designated to begin business, that the gavel propelled by the strong arm of John H. Holt, rapped for order, but rapped in vain for some minutes before the great crowd quieted down enough so that the business of the convention could be begun.

Mr. W. J. W. Cowden presented and had read a resolution, which was in effect that as all members of the convention and all candidates being for protection, reciprocity and sound money, speakers should kindly eliminate those issues from their speeches.

This resolution was received with thunderous applause and unanimously adopted.

Nomination speeches were confined to one each and according to two each.

Nominations for state treasurer were then called for. W. H. Wentz, of Barbour, eloquently named M. A. Kendall, of Wood county. Berkeley seconded Kendall, and promised full support.

Kendall's reception by the convention was cordial in the extreme.

F. C. Letwick, a Boone county delegate, placed the name of Cornelius Pickens, of that county, before the convention.

C. F. Mortimer, of Brooke, presented the name of Captain J. H. Sentz, of Kanawha county.

James H. Hughes, of Cabell, named T. T. McDougal, of Wayne.

David Matthews, of Cabell, presented Moses Frankenberg, of Kanawha.

A. B. Bell, of Clay, seconded Frankenberg.

M. H. Willis, of Doddridge, spoke for McDougal. S. R. Ayie, of Kanawha, did likewise for Captain Sentz. J. L. Whitte, of Marion, seconded Kendall. Benjamin Hughes, of Mingo, did the same for McDougal. T. W. B. Duckwall, of Morgan, spoke for McDougal. A. R. Campbell, of Ohio, for Kendall.

George B. Caldwell, of Ohio seconded Sentz. Pleasant was for Kendall. T. F. Lanham, of Preston, for McDougal. O. W. O. Hardman, of Tyler, for Kendall. J. M. Fuller, of Wayne, for McDougal. H. P. Tully and Captain C. B. Smith, of Wood, for Kendall, and Wyoming county for Pickens.

Nominations were closed and the first ballot was taken. Kendall led at a safe distance, followed by Sentz, McDougal, Pickens and Frankenberg. Before the result of the ballot could be announced, the changes began, and simultaneously the noise and disorder and confusion.

Harrison went to Kendall, Jefferson and Morgan. Mason went to Sentz, and Tucker and Marshall to Kendall. Doddridge went to McDougal, Brooke to Kendall, and Braxton to Sentz.

Boone withdrew Pickens' name and went solid for Kendall.

Mingo demanded a poll and split from Sentz.

Ritchie went for Sentz. Ohio forty-five for Kendall, twelve for Sentz, three for McDougal.

Monroe went to Kendall, Barbour fifteen for Kendall, one for McDougal; Webster split. Clay, Boone and Monroe went to Sentz. Gilmer to Kendall. Wayne withdrew McDougal and gave Kendall thirteen, and Sentz three. Taylor turned to Kendall. Grant to Sentz, and also Hancock, Preston, Putnam and Hampshire, Gilmer, Randolph and Logan to Kendall. Changes continued back and forth with lightning rapidity and cheers and hisses greeted each change.

The confusion was awful. The officers of the convention seemed powerless. Despite it all the best of humor prevailed. John B. Floyd moved to have the secretary call the ballot as he had for verification.

The Verdict Ballot.

In the following table, "K" stands for Kendall, "S" for Sentz, "M" for McDougal, "P" for Pickens, and "F" for Frankenberg.

Before the result could be announced it was seen that Kendall had it and the convention broke loose again, the wildest enthusiasm prevailing.

Kendall appeared upon the platform, and was lifted upon the table. McDougal, Ohio, Roane and several other counties were clamoring for recognition so they could change to Kendall. When order was restored reading clerk Poffenberger announced the result of the ballot.

Results were as follows: Kendall, 473; Sentz, 359; scattering, 19.

Mr. Kendall briefly returned thanks for the honor, and the convention took a recess till after dinner.

Mr. Kendall is a young Republican whose home is in Parkersburg. He is a traveling salesman, and covers all of the territory of that county.

TICKET COMPLETED.

Trotter, Rucker and McWhorter are the Winners.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 23.

At the afternoon session of the convention, which finally got down to business at 2:30 o'clock, George Poffenberger, of Taylor, moved to amend the rules to the extent that no county could change its vote before the announcement of the ballot. The motion was opposed by J. H. Floyd, of Kanawha. H. S. White, of Mingo, and others. On motion of E. E. Holt, of Kanawha, the motion was tabled.

Nominations for state superintendent of schools were called for. Berkeley yielded to Upshur and Senator H. C. Young nominated Professor J. R. Trotter, of Upshur. His nomination was seconded by Brooke.

E. H. Fitch, of Cabell, eloquently named Hamlin Adams, of that county.

Robert Blizard, of Calhoun, presented Henry Clay Lockney, of that county.

Colonel C. Moore, of Harrison, nominated J. N. David, of that county.

Stuart Reed seconded David's nomination. L. C. Anderson, of Lewis, spoke in behalf of Trotter, also Blair, of Marshall, and Mingo for the same. D. M. Worthing, of Preston, seconded Trotter.

Edward Cowler, of Boone, spoke for Lockney. Peck, of Wayne, seconded Trotter.

C. H. Payne seconded Adams.

Trotter Wins the Prize.

A ballot was then ordered. Trotter led from the start and it was easily seen that he was a winner. Adams followed and Lockney was next, while David brought up the rear. Before the ballot was completed, the expected change to Trotter began. Jefferson led off, followed by Boone, Braxton, Greenbrier, Berkeley, Morgan, Preston and Kanawha. At this juncture, Mr. Lockney withdrew in a rattling speech and moved that Trotter's nomination be made unanimous. Adams also gracefully withdrew and seconded Lockney's motion. David did a similar act and Trotter won the prize.

Trotter returned his sincere thanks for the high honor. His nomination stirred enthusiasm to a high pitch.

Nominations for attorney-general were called for. Berkeley gave way to Monongalia and W. E. Glasscock nominated Frank Cox, of the latter county.

Boone yielded to Hon. J. H. Gairner, of Kanawha, who received a cordial recognition from the convention. In a five-minute speech he named Hon. Edgar P. Rucker, of McDowell county.

Braxton seconded Rucker.

E. P. Fitch, of Cabell, in an eloquent effort presented the name of Hon. F. W. Morris, of Ritchie. Chris. H. Payne, of Calhoun, seconded Fitch. Foyette, seconded Rucker. Phil Walters, another born colored orator, from Kanawha, seconded Morris. J. C. Herndon, on behalf of McDowell, spoke for Rucker.

Rucker and rehearsed the McDowell content, but the convention refused to give him respectful hearing, as they were biased and yelled "Silence!" T. W. B. Duckwall, of Morgan, seconded Morris. Nicholas seconded Rucker. Edward C. Kinneson speaking for Putnam, seconded Rucker. Sherman Robinson, of Ritchie, spoke for Morris. Sharkey, of Boone, spoke for Rucker.

H. H. Holt, of Taylor, in a splendid speech, upshur, spoke for Rucker. L. T. Peck, of Wayne, seconded Rucker. W. T. Heaton, of Wood, was for Rucker.

Frank Cooper, of Wirt, spoke for Morris; Wyoming did the same for Rucker.

Rucker Wins in a Walk.

The speech making being over, the voting began and it was plain to be seen that the convention wanted Rucker, although the other candidates were treated handsomely, all being complimented. But the inevitable change began before the completion of the ballot. Upshur started the ball to rolling. Ohio, Berkeley and many other counties kept it rolling toward Rucker.

Mr. Cox secured recognition and withdrew, moving as he did so, that Rucker's nomination be made unanimous.

Mr. Morris seconded the motion and moved the suspension of the rules and the previous question, and Rucker went through with a wild yell. This nomination seemed to suit everybody, even defeated opponents, who paid glowing tributes to this young leader, and withdrew in a most happy manner in his favor.

Mr. Rucker was escorted to the platform by Messrs. Cox and Morris and made a fine speech of thanks, in which was not a little of good Republican doctrine and principle.

Nominations being called for, candidates for the supreme judgeship. W. H. Wentz, of Barbour, nominated Neal J. Fortney, W. B. Kittle, of Barbour, named Robert F. Fleming, of Jackson. Doddridge yielded and Hon. C. T. Caldwell named T. P. Jacobs, of Wetzel. J. J. Walker seconded Fleming. Judge C. P. Smyth, of Kanawha, named H. C. McWhorter. John B. Floyd seconded McWhorter. Lewis seconded Jacobs. Lincoln was for McWhorter. Hon. George B. Caldwell spoke for Fortney. J. K. Thompson, of Putnam, was for McWhorter. Roane for Fleming. Percy A. Shaver, of Tyler, for Jacobs. Editor Marion Jones, of Tucker, for McWhorter. Charles J. Summers, for McWhorter. Upshur for Fleming. Peck, of Wayne, for McWhorter.

McWhorter Nominated.

D. M. Worthing, of Preston, withdrew Fortney's name. A ballot was begun and the contest was lively in the extreme. Much time was consumed in taking this ballot. The noise at times made by the delegates and spectators was more than confusion. The aisles were full of people, and as it was near supper time, many were leaving the hall. Chairman Holt, again had to have the rules enforced. A considerable delay and noise the ballot was read for verification. Before the reading clerk began, however, O. W. O. Hardman, of Tyler, withdrew Judge Jacobs' name, getting back sarcastically, but good naturedly at Ohio county for being unable to see that the first congressional district had a convention.

To explain this thrust it need be said that Ohio had given Jacobs only ten votes out of sixty. It had followed in the wake of a number of other counties who had voted and changed afterward to McWhorter. Before Ohio was called McWhorter got the benefit of all the delegates and while the second congressional district tried to stem the McWhorter tide and to turn to Judge Fleming, they were unsuccessful.

The reading clerk read the ballot and had it verified and McWhorter was declared the nominee, he having received 539 votes.

A motion to adjourn was apparently lost, but the clerk wisely concluded to allow the delegates to get their supper before tackling the two electors-at-large and so declared for a recess.

ELECTORS AT LARGE

Are Chosen at the Night Session and the Convention Adjourns.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 23.

It was 8:45 o'clock before the convention could be gotten to order for nominations for electors at large were called for. Congressman Dayton stepped forward amid applause and nominated Dr. James P. Fitch, of Monongalia. Hon. William Seymour Edwards, of Kanawha, named Dr. David Meyer, of Kanawha. Robert Hughes, of Kanawha, seconded Fitch. Alex. E. Holt, of Fitch, presented the name of E. H. Fitch, of Cabell. Hon. Elliott Northcott, seconded E. H. Fitch. Colonel Hooten, of Marshall, nominated G. S. McFadden, of that county. Doddridge, of Webster, spoke in behalf of "The bald eagle of Cabell county." E. H. Fitch. Reese Bizzard, of Calhoun, nominated Sheriff S. B. Rathbone, of Wirt. Senator Thomas Davies, of Fayette, nominated Col. John Driscoll, of Booneville. Harrison seconded Meyer. John L. Whitten, of Mason, named Editor George Poffenberger, of Point Pleasant. George Avis, of Kanawha, seconded Meyer. Lincoln seconded Fitch. Stuart P. Reed, of Harrison, was for McFadden. Lewis seconded E. H. Fitch.

A delegate from Mingo nominated J. K. Anderson, of that county. T. W. B. Duckwall, of Morgan, seconded Meyer. Fitch, A. H. Vinchaster, of Upshur, spoke for Driscoll. Mingo, of Nicholas, was for Meyer. Ritchie seconded Fitch. D. M. Worthing, of Preston, spoke in behalf of Dr. Fitch, also Taylor county, and O. W. Hardman. Percy A. Shaver, of Tyler, nominated Henry P. Tully, of Wood. Upshur seconded Dr. Fitch.

A Brooke county delegate nominated the convention at large. (Great laughter.)

J. W. Vandervort, of Wood, seconded Poffenberger. C. H. Payne, spoke for Driscoll. During all these nominations much noise and confusion was experienced. The convention was good humored and kidded the orators unmercifully. They seemed to want to make fun. An unruly Fayette delegate stirred up trouble and brought down a storm of hisses. Great confusion reigned after the nominations were all in and the chair had trouble in securing order. Order being secured, the roll of counties was begun. It was decided to vote for only one elector at a time.

The first ballot result resulted in a nomination. Dr. Fitch was successful and on motion his nomination was made unanimous. Another ballot for the remaining elector to be chosen was then ordered.

Dr. Samuel C. Burdett offered the usual resolutions thanking the temporary and permanent officers for their efficient work, and the city of Parkersburg for its hospitable entertainment, which carried unanimously.

At exactly 1:45 the greatest convention ever held in this state adjourned until they met again "God be With You till we Meet Again," a part of the convention joining in the singing.

ARE STILL AT IT.

Populists Are Singing Songs and Cracking Jokes

OVER THE GRAVE SITUATION.

They Have An All Day Session and Do Nothing

EXCEPT ELECT A CHAIRMAN.

Who Is None Other than Senator Allen, of Nebraska, who is in Favor of the Endorsement of Bryan—A Series of Wild Enthusiasm Follows the Selection—The Situation at Present seems to Point to the Fact that the Friends of the Chicago Nominee Have Control of the Convention, and that the "Key Orator of the Plate" will Get His Tunings—Adjournment Taken Until To-day.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 23.—The Bryan supporters are jubilant to-night. They demonstrated after a stormy day. In the Populist convention that they had a majority of 161. They perfected their permanent organization, installed their candidate, Senator Allen, of Nebraska, as permanent chairman, and took charge of the machinery of the convention and the committees.

The silver convention at Music hall simply dawdled along, listening to the speeches and transacting trivial business, in pursuance of their pre-arranged program, remaining in session in the home of the hostess, the action of the other convention in the direction of endorsing silver and the Chicago Democratic ticket.

A bitter feeling manifested itself among the Middle of the Road faction, which found vent in several wild demonstrations and counter-demonstrations. The morning session of their annual blank so far as business was concerned. The report of the committee on credentials was not ready and the convention listened to a baritone from Oklahoma, and a sweet singer from Arkansas rendered some campaign parodies on popular ballads.

The session was dramatically arranged. Middle of the Road demonstration which failed to arouse much enthusiasm, despite its theatrical accessories.

WHAT A FARCE.

Populists Singing Songs and Quoting Phrases to Keep Courage Up.

ST. LOUIS, July 23.—The Populists began assembling in convention shortly after 9 o'clock. The air in the hall was exceedingly oppressive. The delegates with their shouting and their arms, stood about in the sultry atmosphere, discussing the situation, the advisability of endorsing Bryan, the planks of the platform, and kindred topics.

At 10:35, Senator Butler, the handsome temporary chairman, appeared on the platform. Simultaneously, the band struck up "Dixie" and the delegates uttered some of their pent-up enthusiasm. Five minutes later, Chairman Butler called the convention to order, and the Rev. Mr. Smith offered the invocation for blessings upon the common country.

There was a ripple of applause, and a few shouts when the name of Jacob C. Coxey was announced as a member of the committee on platform from Ohio. There were also demonstrations for Governor Holcomb, of Nebraska; General Weaver, of Iowa, and ex-Governor Llewelling, of Kansas, when their names were shouted out.

Conspicuous on the floor was a lady who sat with the Kentucky delegation. She was dressed in virgin white, and above her dark tresses floated several long white plumes. She proved to be the newly wedded bride of delegate Taylor, editor of the Paducah (Ky.) Herald.

The announcements were completed at 11:45. Delegate Dixon, of Oklahoma, then mounted the stage and after adjuring the delegates to be quiet and not interrupt, introduced Clarence E. Conley, of Oklahoma, who regaled the convention with some campaign songs.

He was small in stature, but he had a good baritone voice, and the words of his songs tickled the delegates immensely, and they applauded at every opportunity, despite his deprecating gestures.

An Alabama delegate then introduced "Missus Pennington," the sweet canting singer of Arkansas. She sang in a pleasant soprano a parody on "Yankee Doodle Dandy," each verse of which concluded:

"Yankee Doodle, Get Your Gun! Shoot the Gold Bugs, Every One; Yankee Doodle Dandy."

Delegate Crawford, of Kansas, moved that the delegates of the silver convention be admitted on exhibition of their badges. There were many cries of "no," from the "Middle of the Road" men, who evidently thought they saw in this a move to pack the galleries with Bryan shouters.

After some wrangling, Chairman Butler, amid shouts of delight from the straight-outers, ruled the motion out of order.

Mr. Washburne, of Massachusetts, from the stage, announced that he had an important resolution to offer. It proved to be one deprecating the talk of a split in the convention. It was intended to bind the convention.

A storm of protests came from the Middle of the Roaders, and one of them made the point of order that before the convention was permanently organized no such resolution could be acted upon.

Chairman Butler ruled that during the temporary organization, a resolution could be passed expressing its sense.

Delegate Branch, of Georgia, followed with a motion to table the subject. There was a great deal of confusion as the vote was being taken, viva voce, Chairman Butler deciding that the motion was carried. This disturbing question out of the way, delegate Willis, of North Dakota, moved to take a recess, but the crowd desired more music and speeches, and promptly voted the motion down.

At 12:12, another motion to take a recess until 3 o'clock was made, and it carried.

WILD AND WOOLY

Were the Scenes of the Afternoon Session of the Populists.

ST. LOUIS, July 23.—The delegates were promptly on hand for the afternoon session. Just before the hour of 3 o'clock a delegate climbed laboriously up the stairs to the platform. He was evidently very weary from the efforts of several days' hard campaigning. He straightened himself up with some effort and brought his umbrella handle down with a crash on the table. "Is this a Populist convention?" he shouted in a husky, untidy voice. "For God's sake, don't get into the Democratic band wagon!"

The crowd laughed and the Middle of the Roader let himself carefully down the steps and disappeared in the direction of the Texas delegation.

Chairman Butler called the convention to order, and one of them announced that the committee on credentials would report, then the trouble began.

The Colorado contest was taken up.

the committee recommending the seating of the delegation headed by Patterson, Denver, an avowed Bryan man. Patterson moved that the consideration of the matter be postponed for one hour to give the minority a chance to formulate a report, which was agreed to.

"This," said a Texas man, "is magnanimous, but Tom Patterson, can't catch us with any such taffy. He is not in the 'Middle of the Road.'"

The Illinois case was taken up then. The majority reported that the two delegations from Cook county be seated and the vote divided. The minority, signed by fourteen members of the committee, recommended that Dr. Taylor's delegation be seated. A Virginia delegate moved the adoption of the majority report, and Delegate Moran, of Nebraska, to substitute the minority for the majority report. After some wrangling it was agreed that there should be fifteen minutes for debate on each side.

The vote on the question resulted 655 for the majority report, and 642 for the minority. The anti-Bryan delegates hailed the announcement as a victory for the "Middle of the Road" element, and they were very jubilant. The Patterson Colorado delegation was then seated without division.

A Wild Demonstration.

The report of the committee on permanent organization was then read. The announcement of the selection of Senator Allen, of Nebraska, for permanent chairman, was the signal for a wild demonstration, which lasted several minutes. John W. Hayes, of New Jersey, was selected for secretary, and the other temporary officers were made permanent. The minority report naming James E. Campbell, of Maine, for permanent chairman, set the Middle of the Road men on fire. The Texas and Georgia delegates climbed onto their chairs and yelled like Indians. Several large Middle of the Road banners were paraded through the aisles. The western delegates as a rule took no part in the demonstration.

One of the Georgia delegates pulled up his state standard and followed the Alabama delegation in the procession. The Alabama standard was broken and a fight almost precipitated. Bedlam reigned for ten minutes. When order was at last restored, the names of the signers of the minority report were read.

When the name of the Illinois member of the committee was read that delegate jumped up and announced that his signature was forged. His name was not on the list. Delegate Blaze, of Texas, then moved that Campbell's name be substituted for that of Allen for permanent chairman. E. Gerry Brown, of Massachusetts, moved to lay both majority and minority reports on the table, pending the report of the committee on rules. The previous question was ordered.

Meant
